

Zipfelpulli ANJANA

The Zipfelpulli ANJANA is a wonderful basic pattern that can be modified and varied again and again – make it as a sweater, a dress, a jumper or a jacket. The Zipfelpulli looks great with pants, dresses and skirts. It is easy and quick to sew and is well suited to beginners. Detailed illustrated instructions as well as sample designs can be found on our homepage www.farbenmix.de - Anleitungen.

Before beginning please take measurements, in particular the length and width and check them against the table below to ensure a good fit.

The Zipfelpulli ANJANA is designed to be worn as a sweater made from stretch knits. It is generously cut both in length and width. The total length corresponds to the length of the points (3). You should test the desired length by holding a point under the arm to measure. The width can be easily adjusted for a closer fit.

Instructions

1. Stitch the two hood pieces (5) together with the overlocker or with a zig zag stitch.
2. The hood can be finished in two ways.

Variation A – 1 Knotted Point:

Lay the two hood pieces right sides together. Stitch along the top, around the point and underneath to the nape of the neck. Turn inside out and tie a knot in the point.

Variation B – 2 Knotted Points:

Lay both hood pieces wrong sides together. Stitch together only up until the markings. A hole will remain in the hood and both points can be individually knotted.

3. Turn the front edge of the hood under and hem with a stretch stitch such as a three point zig zag.
4. Lay the front (1) and back (2) pieces right sides together, stitch and serge at the shoulder seams.
5. Pin the centre of the base of the hood to the centre of the back piece with right sides together. Pin the two front pieces of the hood to the centre of the front of the sweater. These should overlap by approximately 5mm. Secure the two front pieces with a few stitches before stitching. Stitch the hood onto the sweater. Fold the seam allowance downwards and top stitch with a three step zig zag.
6. Stitch the points (3) right sides together onto the sides of the front and back pieces – matching the markings for the front and back sides.
7. Stitch the sleeve seams and serge.
8. With right sides together pin sleeve (4) into armhole matching markings on the sleeve. The top marking matches the shoulder seam, the sleeve seam matches the underarm seam and the additional sleeve marking matches the marking on the front piece. We recommend you pin these three points. Stitch and serge.
9. Start with the lower edge of the FRONT piece, fold it under and stitch with a stretch stitch such as the 3 step zig zag. Next repeat with the lower edge of the BACK piece.
10. Hem the sleeves with a narrow hem.

Good Luck and Have Fun!
